

Transformative and Lasting Change for Leaders, Teams, and Organizations

We provide customized leadership development solutions and integrated coaching and team building engagements

Government Solutions

The skills needed to succeed in today's workplace are constantly evolving. While technical skills remain important, research indicates that organizations increasingly need to employ workers who possess critical "soft skills" to improve resilience, communication, productivity, teamwork, leadership, employee retention and motivation, and bottom-line results. Developing Emotional Intelligence competencies is integral for profound leadership development creating positive and life-changing outcomes.

Core Competencies

Since 2009, Avante Leadership Group has specialized in working with government agencies and prime contractors who want to develop resilient leaders and teams. Our customized training and coaching programs focus on effective communication, resilience, emotional intelligence, team effectiveness, and leadership. Learning programs are offered onsite or virtually, and are delivered in 2 hour, ½-day, and multiple day formats. Our highly qualified team of facilitators and coaches bring extensive professional and government experience.
